

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

This is clearly a use of public media for political purposes. Sinclair's contention that this is not a political ad is false, especially given the large amount of money they the owners have given to the Republican party and the Bush campaign.

I urge you not to renew Sinclair's license since it is clearly a using its stations for electioneering.

Thank you.
